Message for St. Pius X High School Annual - Del Sarto

This volume will be a cherished reminder of this year of school at St. Pius X. With it go my congratulations to the students and words of commendation and appreciation to the teachers and to the parents and others who, with loving care and at great sacrifice, have made this school year possible. May the blessing of God be upon you now and forever.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

DEDICATION

Basic to the nature of every woman is the dominating character trait of being weak in time of great emotional stress. Therefore, it is especially noteworthy when a woman displays selflessness and courage in time of deep tragedy.

Such was the reaction of Mrs. John F. Kennedy to the tragedy of November 22, 1963. Through her self-composure, dignity, and strength of character in time of grief, she has given the world an ideal of true womanhood.

For this reason, and as an expression of our sympathy to the family of our late President, we, the Del Sarto Staff of 1964, dedicate this edition of our yearbook to Mrs. Kennedy and her children, Caroline and John, Jr.

HIS HOLINESS POPE PAUL VI

COACHES

Ed Dettenbaugh, Bob Hutson, Bill O'Connell, and Mary Jo Clinger

We wish to take this opportunity to say thanks for the wonderful training and help given by these four coaches along with Coach Rice who was not here when this picture was taken.

Because of the principles of these faculty members we feel that the boys and girls of St. Pius X will be better men and women in the world in which they will take their place.

SENIOR PLAY

Cecela Baldwin and Sharon Apffel took care of our sounds and lights.

Director Mary Fenn instructs Chris Rawlinson and Mary Pawloski.

Okay, it's a deal, Chuck. Hang on a minute until Billie and I get this note written so you can get some gas.

Just because Chuck has an embargo on his dates doesn't mean that I have to sit at home

Patsy you're a pretty good accomplice.

President's Message to the Student Body

In Lord Tennyson's poem "Ulysses" we are given a challenge—life's challenge—"to strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield." We are faced with this command with the dawning of each new school year. This year, as always, has passed rapidly, and yet each of us has no doubt experienced disappointments as well as happiness in its short span.

At St. Pius X School, each of us is given opportunities in abundance with which to meet our everyday trials. You must learn to use them fruitfully for your success. Failure in some particular ideal may depend upon it.

For you, St. Pius should hold a special meaning. Make St. Pius your second home and imbued with the joys of learning, the experience of giving, the warmth of true friends. Work with your school in all its activities. Cheer with its cheerleaders, help its teachers, give of yourself in every way possible. In this way will you be able to reap abundantly the benefits found here at St. Pius.

Be an individual. Stand up for what you know is right despite what others may say. Learn to be a leader, not a slave. Accept cheerfully what you know you cannot change. By so doing you will grow to a maturity of spirit that will mark you a student who has striven, sought, and has found.

And yet, you should realize that the best is not good enough. Be careful not to be satisfied with the work you have completed. Strive to find newer and greater horizons. God has given you much. Do it in your heart to give much back to Him.

This year is my last here at St. Pius, but the memories, rich and deep will linger always. The store of knowledge and experience I have gained as Student Body President will I am sure exert even greater value than it has already been. I thank you all for the golden opportunity to serve St. Pius to represent her to the world and deeply Thank you for helping me grow up just a little more in love with Our Lord for His many blessings bestowed upon our school.

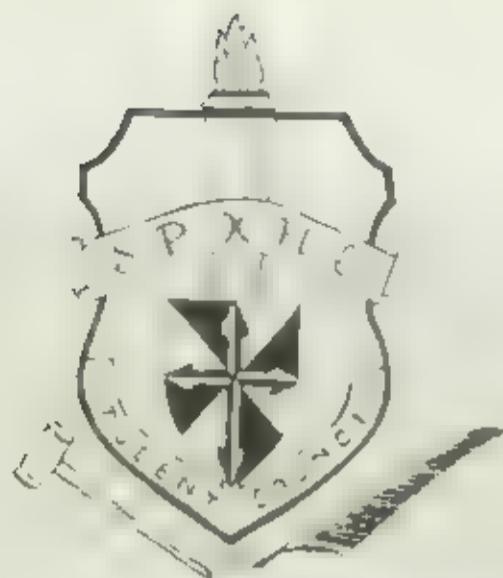

Freshmen, my sincere wishes of good luck are with you in your remaining high school years.

Sophomores, prepare yourselves for a simply fabulous year of upper classmanship

JUNIORS, SENIORS of '65, best of luck to a great group of kids.

Seniors, my fellow classmates, we express our farewell to our dear school with perhaps a sigh of relief but even more possibly with a pang of sorrow and realization that our days as seniors are no more. May God bless each of you and guide you to success in whatever you do.

To St. Pius, to the faculty, to the students, thank you for four of the most wonderful years of my life.

TORCHBEARER

The next issue of the Torchbearer begins to come to life as Virginia Wagner, Joe Hughes, Jimmy Batt and Patty Collier check the calendar for coming events while planning the news stories

News stories to write...deadlines to meet...Sylvia Garcia, Grace Jurecka, Richard Vara and Marilyn Cykala work busily to complete type-copy on the "big news" around school

Many hours of research lie ahead as Mary Fenn, Nancy Hormacher, Mary Frances Hamala and Herman Jadloski attend to writing feature stories and editorials. The student's interest is of top importance in this field of writing

Pictures must tell a story... another job in putting the paper together. Barbara Bouldin and Geraldine Krichke measure and "crop" photos while Dorothy Stepanski and Rosalie Savarino use their imagination and wit combined drawing clever editorial cartoons.

Catch that misspelled word! Be sure and correct that date! The paper is well on its way as Vicki Zoth, Frank Skelly, Charlotte Mock, and Robert Hobzal spot the errors.

Physical appearance makes or breaks the newspaper's appeal. Jimmy Taunello, Diane Campise and Leon Mustachio strive to accomplish this as they put the final stories together in the job of make-up. Insert Chris Rawlinson, an able member of this group.

The Torchbearer runs its last lap in production as Paul Taylor, Greg Schildgen, Anthony Aquilina, and Paul Montabano fold, wrap, address, and stamp issues to be sent out. St. Pius exchanges papers with many different schools.
